Successful Cattle Breeder Raises Only the Best Registered Stock—Right Feeding and Care Secret of Success.

The following is taken from the Weekly Kansas City Star of Wednesday, May 14:

After the financial panic of the early nineties W. A. Berg didn't have much left. That is, in the way of money or property. But he did have plenty of nerve and initiative and he had the confidence of a banker who believed "Billy" Berg as not the kind to be kept down by a temporary misfortune. How Mr. Berg "beat back" to prosperity, greater prosperity than he had ever know before, is one of the romances of American farm life.

It has been almost forty years since Mr. Berg came from Indiana and began farming in Northwest Missouri. He was raised on a farm and it was only natural that he should continue farming in the new country in which he had settled. But, after several years of rather more ordinary success, he sold the farm for just what it cost and moved to town, where he bought a hardware store, with the $4,500 he had accumulated. But Mr. Berg simply couldn't stay "retired" when it came to farming and live stock.

Can't Be Happy Without Cattle

Within six months he had rented some land and was feeding a bunch of cattle. He says he just can't be contented without the music a bunch of cattle make in the feedlot, any more than some people can live hapily without phonographs. Eventually the hard times practically wiped out the hardware store. In addition to this, injuries by a horse made it almost impossible for him to do any of the real work of the farm. Skillful management, however, and careful study of farming and live stock problems have enabled him to pay for the farm he bought "on time," increase it to 480 acres equip it with splendid improvements and build up a wide reputation as a successful feeder of cattle. Besides farming his own land, he rents several hundred acres.

It was the black calf route that led this Missouri farmer back to prosperity His Oxford Angus farm, eight miles southeast of Parnell, in Worth county, long has been known for the splendid baby beeves it produces. While registration has not been kept up carefully, all the stuff on the place is purebred and considerable stuff has been sold for breeding stock. It would be difficult to tell how many young Angus breeders have got their foundation stock from this farm. But it is as a producer of baby beef that Mr. Berg is best known.

In the last twenty years no other Missour farmer has topped the market so often as he. It has come to be a habit. For the last eighteen years he has shipped his cattle on the last Saturday in November, except in 1914, and was prevented from doing it then only by the prevalence of the foot-and-mouth disease. For eighteen years he has topped the open market at Chicago and in 1914 he topped the market on heifers by $2 a hundredweight. This carload of heifers brought $11, which was $2 more than any other carload of heifers bought at any market in the United States that year.

While he naturally feels pride in this achievement, he does not take all the credit to himself. He says it is because he handles good stock and particularly because they are of the Angus breed. He holds the Angus cattle put on more flesh on the same amount of feed, distribute the fat more evenly and will turn out a more even bunch from the same feed lot than any other kind of cattle. Visitors who go to the Berg place with a prejudice against "black cattle" usually come away feeling that the Angus breed has a lot of good points in its favor.

The other day Mr. Berg went with a newspaper man over the pastures where the nineteenth successive crop of baby beeves were grazing.

Raises His Own Calves.

"I raise my own calves and feed them out," he said. "I had rather have

NORMAL FOOTBALL PROSPECTS GOOD

ARANGEMENT OF SCHEDULE—IS STARTED AT SPRINGFIELD

FEW CONFERENCE GAMES

Prof. Swinehart in Attendance at Conference Meet—Coaches to Act as Conference Officials.

Prospects for football this coming fall at the State Normal School brightened today when an announcement was made by Prof. Swinehart that a number of games have been assured for the schedule and several others tentatively arranged for. Prof. Swinehart attended the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association at Springfield, Mo. last week, and while at that place made arrangements for two games with the Tarkio college eleven and tentative arrangements for contests with the Kirksville and Warrensburg teams.

Prof. Swinehart stated today that as the gridiron sport is really a new one at the local institution, the policy is to play only a few games with the conference elevens, and to fill the schedule up with outside teams. "We are just beginning to develop foot ball here," said Prof. Swinehart," and we do not want to discourage the sport by booking teams that are too strong at first. Practice games with the smaller teams will do a world of good in building up the right kind of an aggregation here."

The principal action taken at the meeting in Sprigfield was the re-admittance of Warrensburg State Normal to the conference. Dr. F. C. Allen, athletic director at that institution placed an open football schedule before the coaches and stated that he was willing to let any school of the conference pick their date and location.

At the meeting it was decided to permit the coaches from the various schools act as officials at contests in the conference. A coach will not be permitted to officiate in any game in which his team is taking part, but will be permitted to arbitrate in outside contests.

Among the coaches who were in attendance at the Springfield meeting were: Coach Biggs of Springfield; McWilliams of Kirksville; Allen of Warrensburg; Davis of Missouri Wesleyan; McKillop of Tarkio; Foster of Drury, and Swinehart of Maryville.

A BIG BOOST FOR GOOD ROADS PLAN

A BIG BBOOST FOR GOODW ROADS ARMY TRUCKS TO BE DISTRIBUTED FOR ROAD CONSTRUCTION

TO ASK FOR 3 TRUCKS

New Equipment Expected to Prove a Big Aid to Work in This County —To Cut Down Hauling Cost.

County Clerk Fred Smith is in receipt of a letter today from H. D. Judson, Division Engineer of the State Highway Department at St. Joseph, in which he is asked to call a meeting of the County court to decide upon the number of army trucks which are desired in this county for use in road construction and other highway improvement work. A telegraphic requisition has been sent in to Washington for 60 trucks to be used in Northwest Missouri, Division and it was stated today by Mr. Smith that a request would be made to secure three trucks, two 2-ton and one 3-ton for Nodaway county.

The War Department recently turned over to the Federal Bureau of Public Roads of the Department of Agriculture a large amount of road building machinery to be distributed among the state highway departments throughout the United States for use in the construction and maintainance of Federal Aid roads. The equipment is in turn to be distributed by the State Highway Depatment among the various counties of the states. The only requirements made of the counties receiving the trucks are that they pay for the loading and frieght charges on the same and that they will agree to properly care for the equipment and use it only on the construction and maintenance of public roads.

The trucks are all new and were awaiting shipment to France for road construction work there when the armistice was signed. The two ton trucks are the quadruple drive, having the power applied to each wheel. The 3-ton trucks are built for very heavy duty.

The addition of the trucks is expected to prove a great aid to the road work in this county this summer, and the new equipment is bound to greatly facilitate the work which is now planned. At the present time one of the greatest expenses of road construction work is the cost of hauling the material, the regulation teamster rate being paid the men who do this work. With the addition of the new trucks the problem of bringing the material to the place where the work is being done will be practically solved.

The county court will send in a formal requisition to the State Highway Department today and as the prospects for getting the machines are very bright, supporters of the "good roads" idea are looking for increased activity along this line during the coming summer months.

The president also urged the adoption of the suffrage amendment, certain revision of tariff laws, the repeal of the so-called luxury taxes, and continued high levies on incomes, excess profits and estates.

"Are these plum puddings good?" The baker answered: "The only way to tell that, madam, is to take a proof of the pudding."

The way to test a good insurance agency is to have a few losses. It all goes nice to the Companies when you are paying your premiums, but how about the losses?

This agency wrote more farm insurance in the year 1918, than any other agency in the whole state of Missouri. It is not our horn we are tooting but listen to the managers of the Western Farm Department of the Home Insurance Company of New York, the biggest fire insurance company in America:

Chicago, April 1, 1919.

Mr. J. J. Heifner,
Maryville, Missouri

Dear Sir:

We have drawn off a schedule showing the standing of the first 20 agencies in Missouri as concerns volume of premiums written during 1918.

The figures show that your agency stands second on the list. Your 1918 premiums were an increase of some $10,000.00 over those of 1917.

We congratulate you on the handsome business written last year, and the race between yourself and Agent Kirby for first place will be a pretty one to watch during 1919.

Yours truly,

LESCH & CORNELL, Managers.

This, you remember, is for one big company. We represent 8 big companies. And right up to the top with two others.

If you live around Maryville and doubt our paying these losses in full and with promptness, just ask J. B. Robinson how we settled with him; ask Mike Baker how he likes the way we adjust losses; ask Peter Meyer, Chas. Wilson, Joe and Fred Fogan, L. L. Clary, C. A. Barmann, John Price, Wm. Hughes, Montgomery-Cummins Clothing Co., Sam Mozingo, Guy Gray, P. H. Gorman, W. A. Mozingo and many others.

IF YOU LIVE NEAR BARNARD

Ask Andy Bare how we settled with him. We paid S. P. Curnutt over $3,100 on his cyclone loss that happened 3rd of May. Ask him if he got all that was coming to him. Ask Richard Stalling, Charley Henderson, Jim Clements, Theo Goff, Judge Samuel Hayworth, W. T. Throckmorton, Boone Clark, Elijah Jackson and several others.

IF YOU LIVE IN PARNELL

Ask Mrs. Julia L. & B. A. Jones if we paid them. Ank Andy Spire, W. H. Hawk, George Auffart, Andy Seyster, O. W. Keever, Hosie Frowley, S. A. Krugh, G. W. Rauch, Joe Spire, J. A. Gabbert and several others.

No good lawyer ever won a case without asking questions. Keep on asking.

If you live in Graham or Maitland, ask Uncle Tommy Groves how we treated him on his loss. Ask Miss Bertha Cramer if she is satisfied with the adjustment of her losses. Ask C. C. Zapf if we paid him; ask W. A. Hayworth, M. W. Brumbaugh or any one else who ever had a loss with this agency.

If you are around CONCEPTION JUNCTION, you might ask Uncle John Allen if we paid him. Jacob Brunk, William Kidd, Ed Allen; they'll tell you if you ask them.

Down around Guilford you will find J. Q. Beggs, Frank Clayton, T. H. Lawson, W. J. Beggs. Don't fail to ask them if they were treated on the square.

You might drop back to Arkoe: Ask T. H. Coulter, John Baumli, Andy Ault, Joe Dobbins, or John Schneider. They have all had losses with this agency.

Ask J. D. Winger of Skidmore if we paid him. Ask J. A. Walkinshaw of Elmo, or F. P. Brown of Burlington Junction if their losses were settled satisfactorily.

Charlie Reed or C. E. O'Banion of Ravenwood or A. E. Coy or Newt Burns of Sheridan could give you some information as to the way we pay claims and adjust losses.

DON'T ASK US—ASK THEM.

The proof of the pudding is the eating of it.

This agency has had over 100 losses by either fire and lightning or cyclone or windstorms within the past four years and not a dissatisfied adjustment.

The way to keep down trouble is prepare in advance.

Write your fire, lightning, cyclone, tornado and windstorm insurance with a good agency and they will always put you in a good company and then half of your troubles are eliminated to begin with.

No insurance policy is good unless it is written correctly.

WE WRITE THEM RIGHT

We write all kinds of mercantile, town, dwellings and village risks.

We write all kinds of farm business.

We write death from any cause on live stock.

We write hail on growing crops.

We are the biggest fire insurance agency north of the Missouri River in Missouri.

WE REPRESENT 8 BIG COMPANIES

You can get your insurance just as cheap with us as you can with any reliable agency.

WORSE THAN DEADLY POISON GAS

Kidney disease is no respector of persons. It attacks young and old alike.

In most cases the victim is warned of the approaching danger. Nature fights back. Headache, indigestion, insomnia, lame back, lumbago, sciatica, rheumatism, pain in the loins and lower abdomen, difficulty in urinating, all are indication of trouble brewing in your kidneys.

When such symptoms appear you will almost certainly find quick relief in GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules.

This famous old remedy has stood the test for two hundred years in helping mankind to fight off disease.

It is imported direct from the home laboratories in Holland, where it has helped to develop the Dutch into one of the sturdiest and healthiest races in the world, and it may be had at almost every drug store. Your money promptly refunded if it does not relieve you. Be sure to get the genuine GOLD MEDAL Brand. In sealed packages, three sizes.

HIS HABIT IS TO TOP MARKET

twenty cows and raise their calves to baby beeves at eighteen months than to buy and fatten eighty steers. There is more money in it. By selling my calves at eighteen months old I get two season's growth and they will weigh from 1,000 and 1,200 pounds, In that time I will have wintered them only once. I clean up my herd right down to the calves and breeding cows every year. In nineteen years I have never let any of my cattle get two years old, except the heifers I keep for breeding purposes."

Mr. Berg plans to have his calves come in April and May. In this way the cows can care for them right out in the pasture without any help. He says his calves used to come all seasons of the year, but this made an uneven bunch when they went in to the feedlot. It also called for more care and expense. He says that by the next fall the calves would not be any heavier on an average than if they all came in the spring.

"A man must always feed with the market in view,' he said. "If he wants to reach the June markets he must feed heavily all winter. But, if he wants to send his stuff to the Christmas markets, he should not grain them too heavily through the winter. Plenty of roughness in the winter with about a half grain ration till August 1 is my rule. After that time I put them on full feed again until shipping time. If cattle are full fed all winter and the following summer, they will not be as fat by fall as if they had had a lighter ration till about August 1. They cannot stand the hot weather and won't do so well. The others will go right along and will make the greatest gains in the end. At least, that is how it has always worked out for me."

An Out of Doors Herd.

Cows at the Berg farm are never put in the shed, even in the coldest weather They are roughed through and kept out of doors all the time. They develop a sort of coat that prevents any suffering, and they produce big, strong calves in the spring. The calves are given a ration of sliced corn and oats, about two-thirds corn and one-third oats, in the winter. When grass comes, oats are no longer fed. The calves are left in the pasture, where there is plenty of good Missouri blue grass, till about six weeks before shipment. Then they are put up in a dry lot and two or three pounds of molasses feed daily are added to the ration. The molasses feed not only is an appetizer; it makes the cattle drink and fill good.

Mr. Berg has never shown his cattle at any of the big shows, although he is usually on hand with all of them. A single example, however, shows that he is able to produce show stuff when he wants to. He bred the grand champion steer of the 1916 Illinois State Fair, shown by the Missouri Caldwells.

Although he winters about two hundred and fifty head and has around one hundred and fifteen cows on the place, Mr. Berg has no silo. He says he would probably have one if he were situated differently, but as it is, silage is too dear a feed for him. He has plenty of roughage without using silage.

Originally the cows on this farm were grade Shorthorns, but an Angus bull was bought and the herd was grad ually graded up. The bulls are all purebreds, of course, and there are cows in the herd for which Mr. Berg paid $700 each.

Follows No Pedigree Fads.

"I pay no attention to fashionable breeding," he told a visitor. "In any breed of cattle one or two families will be very popular today and lose that popularity tomorrow. Any breeder can name more than one family of the particular breed he fancies of which this is true. I get good registered stuff that are good individuals and will fit into my herd, whether they come of a strain that is popular just then or not. Take a look at my pedigrees and you will see that I have as good Angus blood as there is to be had. My advice to the young breeder is to get good individuals and pay a reasonable price. I don't think it pays to buy at long prices simply because one particular strain is the fad for the time being. Even if a man is raising cattle solely for market, he should breed the best. The best is not too good for beeves."

Mr. Berg believes that if everybody would handle well bred cattle the country would produce a fourth to a third more beef with the same number of cattle on the same amount of feed.

"It is only natural for good cattle, well bred cattle, to mature earlier and produce more meat," he added. "They are more pleasure to handle, too. Again, somebody always wants good cattle, while mighty few people want scrubs. The young man who starts with good ones, doesn't baby them and feeds them right surely ought to prosper. For me there is a certain satisfaction about feeding cattle that I have never found in anything else."

Standing in Mr. Berg's feedlot listening to a bunch of fat black fellows cracking corn as the sun came up over the hills, it was easy to understand why. Some people write poetry about things far less inspiring.

W. A. BERG, LIVING NEAR PARNELL, MISSOURI CHAMPION BEEF RAISER

SPECIALIZES IN ANGUS'

Successful Cattle Breeder Raises Only the Best Registered Stock—Right Feeding and Care Secret of Success.

The following is taken from the Weekly Kansas City Star of Wednesday, May 14:

After the financial panic of the early nineties W. A. Berg didn't have much left. That is, in the way of money or property. But he did have plenty of nerve and initiative and he had the confidence of a banker who believed "Billy" Berg as not the kind to be kept down by a temporary misfortune. How Mr. Berg "beat back" to prosperity, greater prosperity than he had ever know before, is one of the romances of American farm life.

It has been almost forty years since Mr. Berg came from Indiana and began farming in Northwest Missouri. He was raised on a farm and it was only natural that he should continue farming in the new country in which he had settled. But, after several years of rather more ordinary success, he sold the farm for just what it cost and moved to town, where he bought a hardware store, with the $4,500 he had accumulated. But Mr. Berg simply couldn't stay "retired" when it came to farming and live stock.

Can't Be Happy Without Cattle

Within six months he had rented some land and was feeding a bunch of cattle. He says he just can't be contented without the music a bunch of cattle make in the feedlot, any more than some people can live haplly without phonographs. Eventually the hard times practically wiped out the hardware store. In addition to this, injuries by a horse made it almost impossible for him to do any of the real work of the farm. Skillful management, however, and careful study of farming and live stock problems have enabled him to pay for the farm he bought "on time," increase it to 480 acres equip it with splendid improvements and build up a wide reputation as a successful feeder of cattle. Besides farming his own land, he rents several hundred acres.

It was the black calf route that led this Missouri farmer back to prosperity His Oxford Angus farm, eight miles southeast of Parnell, in Worth county, long has been known for the splendid baby beeves it produces. While registration has not been kept up carefully, all the stuff on the place is purebred and considerable stuff has been sold for breeding stock. It would be difficult to tell how many young Angus breeders have got their foundation stock from this farm. But it is as a producer of baby beef that Mr. Berg is best known.

In the last twenty years no other Missour farmer has topped the market so often as he. It has come to be a habit. For the last eighteen years he has shipped his cattle on the last Saturday in November, except in 1914, and was prevented from doing it then only by the prevalence of the foot-and-mouth disease. For eighteen years he has topped the open market at Chicago and in 1914 he topped the market on heifers by $2 a hundredweight. This carload of heifers brought $11, which was $2 more than any other carload of heifers bought at any market in the United States that year.

While he naturally feels pride in this achievement, he does not take all the credit to himself. He says it is because he handles good stock and particularly because they are of the Angus breed. He holds the Angus cattle put on more flesh on the same amount of feed, distribute the fat more evenly and will turn out a more even bunch from the same feed lot than any other kind of cattle. Visitors who go to the Berg place with a prejudice against "black cattle" usually come away feeling that the Angus breed has a lot of good points in its favor.

The other day Mr. Berg went with a newspaper man over the pastures where the nineteenth successive crop of baby beeves were grazing.

Raises His Own Calves.

"I raise my own calves and feed them out," he said. "I had rather have

NORMAL FOOTBALL PROSPECTS GOOD

ARANGEMENT OF SCHEDULE—IS STARTED AT SPRINGFIELD

FEW CONFERENCE GAMES

Prof. Swinehart in Attendance at Conference Meet—Coaches to Act as Conference Officials.

Prospects for football this coming fall at the State Normal School brightened today when an announcement was made by Prof. Swinehart that a number of games have been assured for the schedule and several others tentatively arranged for. Prof. Swinehart attended the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association at Springfield, Mo. last week, and while at that place made arrangements for two games with the Tarkio college eleven and tentative arrangements for contests with the Kirksville and Warrensburg teams.

Prof. Swinehart stated today that as the gridiron sport is really a new one at the local institution, the policy is to play only a few games with the conference elevens, and to fill the schedule up with outside teams. "We are just beginning to develop foot ball here," said Prof. Swinehart," and we do not want to discourage the sport by booking teams that are too strong at first. Practice games with the smaller teams will do a world of good in building up the right kind of an aggregation here."

The principal action taken at the meeting in Sprigfield was the re-admittance of Warrensburg State Normal to the conference. Dr. F. C. Allen, athletic director at that institution placed an open football schedule before the coaches and stated that he was willing to let any school of the conference pick their date and location.

At the meeting it was decided to permit the coaches from the various schools act as officials at contests in the conference. A coach will not be permitted to officiate in any game in which his team is taking part, but will be permitted to arbitrate in outside contests.

Among the coaches who were in attendance at the Springfield meeting were: Coach Biggs of Springfield; McWilliams of Kirksville; Allen of Warrensburg; Davis of Missouri Wesleyan; McKillop of Tarkio; Foster of Drury, and Swinehart of Maryville.

Mr. Hahn stated that the scaffold broke and that the suddenness of the fall rather than the distance was the cause of the injury. He was taken to his home at 1039 N. Dewey street, where he is being attended by Dr. Charles T. Bell.

A BIG BOOST FOR GOOD ROADS PLAN

A BIG BBOOST FOR GOODW ROADS ARMY TRUCKS TO BE DISTRIBUTED FOR ROAD CONSTRUCTION

TO ASK FOR 3 TRUCKS

New Equipment Expected to Prove a Big Aid to Work in This County —To Cut Down Hauling Cost.

County Clerk Fred Smith is in receipt of a letter today from H. D. Judson, Division Engineer of the State Highway Department at St. Joseph, in which he is asked to call a meeting of the County court to decide upon the number of army trucks which are desired in this county for use in road construction and other highway improvement work. A telegraphic requisition has been sent in to Washington for 60 trucks to be used in Northwest Missouri, Division and it was stated today by Mr. Smith that a request would be made to secure three trucks, two 2-ton and one 3-ton for Nodaway county.

The War Department recently turned over to the Federal Bureau of Public Roads of the Department of Agriculture a large amount of road building machinery to be distributed among the state highway departments throughout the United States for use in the construction and maintainance of Federal Aid roads. The equipment is in turn to be distributed by the State Highway Depatment among the various counties of the states. The only requirements made of the counties receiving the trucks are that they pay for the loading and frieght charges on the same and that they will agree to properly care for the equipment and use it only on the construction and maintenance of public roads.

The trucks are all new and were awaiting shipment to France for road construction work there when the armistice was signed. The two ton trucks are the quadruple drive, having the power applied to each wheel. The 3-ton trucks are built for very heavy duty.

The addition of the trucks is expected to prove a great aid to the road work in this county this summer, and the new equipment is bound to greatly facilitate the work which is now planned. At the present time one of the greatest expenses of road construction work is the cost of hauling the material, the regulation teamster rate being paid the men who do this work. With the addition of the new trucks the problem of bringing the material to the place where the work is being done will be practically solved.

The county court will send in a formal requisition to the State Highway Department today and as the prospects for getting the machines are very bright, supporters of the "good roads" idea are looking for increased activity along this line during the coming summer months.

REPEAL OF LUXURY TAX

Message Urges Adoption of Suffrage Amendment and Income Levy Repeal—Asks Jobs for Fighters.

Washington, May 20.—President Wilson today called upon the Sixty-sixth Congress to amend or repeal the war-time prohibition measure in so far as it applies to wines and beers. In his message—the first he has not delivered in person since taking the reins of the government—President Wilson asserted the belief that the demobilization of the army had progresesd to such an extent it would be entirely safe to remove the ban on the manufacture and sale of beers and wines, and plainly indicated that if he had the authority he would take the necessary action himself, but lacking it, he urged congress to act.

The president also urged the adoption of the suffrage amendment, certain revision of tariff laws, the repeal of the so-called luxury taxes, and continued high levies on incomes, excess profits and estates.

He also urged legislation to safeguard the public interest before the telephone and telegraph systems be turned back to private ownership, laws facilitating American enterprise in foreign trade and assistance for returning soldiers finding jobs.

Don't Ask Me, Ask My Customers

I know a baker who had the following conversation with a customer:

"Are these plum puddings good?" The baker answered: "The only way to tell that, madam, is to take a proof of the pudding."

The way to test a good insurance agency is to have a few losses. It all goes nice to the Companies when you are paying your premiums, but how about the losses?

This agency wrote more farm insurance in the year 1918, than any other agency in the whole state of Missouri. It is not our horn we are tooting but listen to the managers of the Western Farm Department of the Home Insurance Company of New York, the biggest fire insurance company in America:

Chicago, April 1, 1919.

Mr. J. J. Heifner,
Maryville, Missouri

Dear Sir:

We have drawn off a schedule showing the standing of the first 20 agencies in Missouri as concerns volume of premiums written during 1918.

The figures show that your agency stands second on the list. Your 1918 premiums were an increase of some $10,000.00 over those of 1917.

We congratulate you on the handsome business written last year, and the race between yourself and Agent Kirby for first place will be a pretty one to watch during 1919.

Yours truly,

LESCH & CORNELL, Managers.

This, you remember, is for one big company. We represent 8 big companies. And right up to the top with two others.

If you live around Maryville and doubt our paying these losses in full and with promptness, just ask J. B. Robinson how we settled with him; ask Mike Baker how he likes the way we adjust losses; ask Peter Meyer, Chas. Wilson, Joe and Fred Fogan, L. L. Clary, C. A. Barmann, John Price, Wm. Hughes, Montgomery-Cummins Clothing Co., Sam Mozingo, Guy Gray, P. H. Gorman, W. A. Mozingo and many others.

IF YOU LIVE NEAR BARNARD

Ask Andy Bare how we settled with him. We paid S. P. Curnutt over $3,100 on his cyclone loss that happened 3rd of May. Ask him if he got all that was coming to him. Ask Richard Stalling, Charley Henderson, Jim Clements, Theo Goff, Judge Samuel Hayworth, W. T. Throckmorton, Boone Clark, Elijah Jackson and several others.

IF YOU LIVE IN PARNELL

Ask Mrs. Julia L. & B. A. Jones if we paid them. Ank Andy Spire, W. H. Hawk, George Auffart, Andy Seyster, O. W. Keever, Hosie Frowley, S. A. Krugh, G. W. Rauch, Joe Spire, J. A. Gabbert and several others.

No good lawyer ever won a case without asking questions. Keep on asking.

If you live in Graham or Maitland, ask Uncle Tommy Groves how we treated him on his loss. Ask Miss Bertha Cramer if she is satisfied with the adjustment of her losses. Ask C. C. Zapf if we paid him; ask W. A. Hayworth, M. W. Brumbaugh or any one else who ever had a loss with this agency.

If you are around CONCEPTION JUNCTION, you might ask Uncle John Allen if we paid him. Jacob Brunk, William Kidd, Ed Allen; they'll tell you if you ask them.

Down around Guilford you will find J. Q. Beggs, Frank Clayton, T. H. Lawson, W. J. Beggs. Don't fail to ask them if they were treated on the square.

You might drop back to Arkoe: Ask T. H. Coulter, John Baumli, Andy Ault, Joe Dobbins, or John Schneider. They have all had losses with this agency.

Ask J. D. Winger of Skidmore if we paid him. Ask J. A. Walkinshaw of Elmo, or F. P. Brown of Burlington Junction if their losses were settled satisfactorily.

Charlie Reed or C. E. O'Banion of Ravenwood or A. E. Coy or Newt Burns of Sheridan could give you some information as to the way we pay claims and adjust losses.

DON'T ASK US—ASK THEM.

The proof of the pudding is the eating of it.

This agency has had over 100 losses by either fire and lightning or cyclone or windstorms within the past four years and not a dissatisfied adjustment.

The way to keep down trouble is prepare in advance.

Write your fire, lightning, cyclone, tornado and windstorm insurance with a good agency and they will always put you in a good company and then half of your troubles are eliminated to begin with.

No insurance policy is good unless it is written correctly.

WE WRITE THEM RIGHT

We write all kinds of mercantile, town, dwellings and village risks.

We write all kinds of farm business.

We write death from any cause on live stock.

We write hail on growing crops.

We are the biggest fire insurance agency north of the Missouri River in Missouri.

WE REPRESENT 8 BIG COMPANIES

You can get your insurance just as cheap with us as you can with any reliable agency.

HIS HABIT IS TO TOP MARKET

twenty cows and raise their calves to baby beeves at eighteen months than to buy and fatten eighty steers. There is more money in it. By selling my calves at eighteen months old I get two season's growth and they will weigh from 1,000 and 1,200 pounds. In that time I will have wintered them only once. I clean up my herd right down to the calves and breeding cows every year. In nineteen years I have never let any of my cattle get two years old, except the heifers I keep for breeding purposes."

Mr. Berg plans to have his calves come in April and May. In this way the cows can care for them right out in the pasture without any help. He says his calves used to come all seasons of the year, but this made an uneven bunch when they went in to the feedlot. It also called for more care and expense. He says that by the next fall the calves would not be any heavier on an average than if they all came in the spring.

"A man must always feed with the market in view,' he said. "If he wants to reach the June markets he must feed heavily all winter. But, if he wants to send his stuff to the Christmas markets, he should not grain them too heavily through the winter. Plenty of roughness in the winter with about a half grain ration till August 1 is my rule. After that time I put them on full feed again until shipping time. If cattle are full fed all winter and the following summer, they will not be as fat by fall as if they had had a lighter ration till about August 1. They cannot stand the hot weather and won't do so well. The others will go right along and will make the greatest gains in the end. At least, that is how it has always worked out for me."

An Out of Doors Herd.

Cows at the Berg farm are never put in the shed, even in the coldest weather They are roughed through and kept out of doors all the time. They develop a sort of coat that prevents any suffering, and they produce big, strong calves in the spring. The calves are given a ration of sliced corn and oats, about two-thirds corn and one-third oats, in the winter. When grass comes, oats are no longer fed. The calves are left in the pasture, where there is plenty of good Missouri blue grass, till about six weeks before shipment. Then they are put up in a dry lot and two or three pounds of molasses feed daily are added to the ration. The molasses feed not only is an appetizer; it makes the cattle drink and fill good.

Mr. Berg has never shown his cattle at any of the big shows, although he is usually on hand with all of them. A single example, however, shows that he is able to produce show stuff when he wants to. He bred the grand champion steer of the 1916 Illinois State Fair, shown by the Missouri Caldwells.

Although he winters about two hundred and fifty head and has around one hundred and fifteen cows on the place, Mr. Berg has no silo. He says he would probably have one if he were situated differently, but as it is, silage is too dear a feed for him. He has plenty of roughage without using silage.

Originally the cows on this farm were grade Shorthorns, but an Angus bull was bought and the herd was grad ually graded up. The bulls are all purebreds, of course, and there are cows in the herd for which Mr. Berg paid $700 each.

Follows No Pedigree Fads.

"I pay no attention to fashionable breeding," he told a visitor. "In any breed of cattle one or two families will be very popular today and lose that popularity tomorrow. Any breeder can name more than one family of the particular breed he fancies of which this is true. I get good registered stuff that are good individuals and will fit into my herd, whether they come of a strain that is popular just then or not. Take a look at my pedigrees and you will see that I have as good Angus blood as there is to be had. My advice to the young breeder is to get good individuals and pay a reasonable price. I don't think it pays to buy at long prices simply because one particular strain is the fad for the time being. Even if a man is raising cattle solely for market, he should breed the best. The best is not too good for beeves."

Mr. Berg believes that if everybody would handle well bred cattle the country would produce a fourth to a third more beef with the same number of cattle on the same amount of feed.

"It is only natural for good cattle, well bred cattle, to mature earlier and produce more meat," he added. "They are more pleasure to handle, too. Again, somebody always wants good cattle, while mighty few people want scrubs. The young man who starts with good ones, doesn't baby them and feeds them right surely ought to prosper. For me there is a certain satisfaction about feeding cattle that I have never found in anything else."

Standing in Mr. Berg's feedlot listening to a bunch of fat black fellows cracking corn as the sun came up over the hills, it was easy to understand why. Some people write poetry about things far less inspiring.
